CHICAGO.

The Grain Trade of Chicago for the Year 1858-9.

For various reasons our regular annual review of the trade and commerce of Chicago is prepared from January to January; but to show the movement of any single crop, the proper time to commence the commercial year is the 1st of September. About that time the new crop begins to come in and the old to give out. This year the harvest was nearly one month earlier than usual; and the old grain was pretty well out of the country before the new began to come in. Generally, however, the 1st of September is a fair time to commence counting the receipts of grain as belonging to the new crop (with the single exception of corn); for although there is generally some new wheat and oats received in August, this is set off by some receipts of old grain in September.

The following table shows the dates of the receipt of new wheat, winter and spring, in the city for the past four crops:—

	WINTER WHEAT.	SPRING WHEAT.
1856	July 7 to Aug. 1	Aug. 8 to Aug. 25
1857	July 10 to Aug. 1	Aug. 5 to Sept. 1
1858	July 25 to Aug. 7	Aug. 12 to Sept. 1
1859	July 8 to July 15	July 25 to Aug. 1

The first date given is that on which the first lot was received, and the second when it began to come in more freely, so as to establish a market.

The extent of the failure of the crops of 1858 cannot be known by a mere cursory glance of tables prepared from January to January. In order to compare them with former years, therefore, we have prepared the following tables showing the receipts of flour and grain at Chicago for the past two years ending August 31:—

RECEIPTS OF FLOUR AND GRAIN FOR TWO YEARS.

	1858-9.	1857-8.
Flour, bbls	5 2,220	534,730
Wheat, bu	5 118,668	13,873,053
Corn, bu	5 891,800	7,065,74..
Oats, bu	723,149	2,340,181
Rye, bu	94,808	61 06
Barley, bu	348,724	288,708
Total bushels (flour reduced to wheat)	14,687,499	26,342 422
		14,687,499
Decrease in 1858-9, bu		11 654,9 3

The following table shows the shipments for the past two years, ending Aug. 31:

SHIPMENTS OF FLOUR AND GRAIN FOR TWO YEARS.

	1858-9.	1857-8.
Flour, brls	400,531	405,113
Wheat, bu	4,766,691	12,745,475
Corn, bu	5,277,781	5,963,470
Oats, bu	616,459	1,510,359
Rye, bu	17,644	....
Barley, bu	97,062	84 5 7
Total bu (flour reduced)	12,929,143	22 319,426
		12,9 9,142
Decrease in 1858-9, bu		9,390,284

The above table of exports, however, includes a large amount of flour and grain which was sent to supply regions in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, where they had to import, instead of export as usual. The following table shows the amount exported by Western railways and by the Illinois and Michigan Canal, from September 1, 1858, to August 31, 1859:

EXPORTS OF FLOUR AND GRAIN INTO WESTERN STATES IN 1858-9.

	Flour, brls.	Wheat, bu.	Corn, bu.	Oats, bu.	Barley, bu.
By I & M Can	97	33,338	....	157,299	18
By C B & Q R R	796	13,483		359	835
By Ill C R R	6,467	8,819	89,602	15,331	2,549
By C & R I R R	1,522	23,275	40,952	....	9,383
By St L R R	6,276	1,021	217	35,430	....
By N W's'n R R	924	6,363	312	248	203
By C Mil R R	3,435	33 943	1,792	2,550	644
By M C R R	....	121,901	163 291	10,273	2,083
By M S n R R	....	13,259	11,408	553	3,708
By Pittsb'g R R	....	13,257	8 100	862	....
Total	19 517	268,149	265,674	220,905	19,447

So here we have a total of flour (reduced) and grain of 871,760 bushels of the year's exports sent into the States which usually are the feeders of the country, which would make the exports really stand thus:—

Total exports of Flour and Grain in 1858-9, bu	12,929,142
Less exports into Western States	871,760
	12,057,382
Total exports in 1857-8	22,319,426
Decrease in 1858-9	10,262,044

But when we take into account the fact that last year at this date, we had a large majority of the crop of 1857 on hand, and that it kept coming in more or less till the close of the season; while this year, we have but a very little of the old crop on hand, and that our shipments of wheat during the last half of August were almost exclusively of the crop of 1859—we find that the loss to the West by the failure of the crops of 1858 is much greater than the above figures indicate.

These tables furnish much matter for reflection. In flour and grain alone here we have a deficit of production to a given extent of country of nearly 50 per cent. In the receipts there is a falling off of upwards of eleven and a half million bushels. In commissions alone to Chicago merchants here is a loss of about $250,000—not to speak of our shipping, which has been comparatively idle all season, for want of this grain to carry forward.

What the loss to the West is by the disaster to the crops, it would be impossible to estimate, taking into consideration the sacrifices which have been made of property that would probably have been saved by a good crop; but the loss in actual cash to that portion of the West which sends her produce to this city cannot fall short of TEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS! Had this amount of money been scattered over the Northwest at a period of so much embarrassment as the past year, who could estimate its beneficial effects to all interests?

Chicago Spring Wheat.

It was the opinion of many a few weeks since that as the receipts increased, the quality of Spring wheat would depreciate. It was said that the farmers were sending their best grain first, and that "by-and-bye" they would be better able to judge of the quality of the new crop. Well, the receipts have increased and what is the result? Our inspectors aver that it has steadily improved, and is still improving. There is a much larger proportion of it grading "No. 1" than at first—the farmers seeing it their interest to clean their grain better before sending it to market.

But besides being plump, clean and "dry as a bone," Chicago Spring Wheat is assuming a position which it never had before. It is competing very successfully with Winter Wheat in the manufacture of flour. Take a sample of flour made from No. 1 Spring Wheat, and one made from White Winter, and the difference will be found to be very little. For family purposes the Spring Wheat flour is almost as good as the Winter, and there is no such difference in quality as the price indicates. The opinion, therefore, that this year the difference in price between Winter and Spring Wheat flour will be made less than formerly, seems likely to be verified. In fact we find that during the past week, there has been a fair demand for Spring Extra brands at previous prices, while for Winter Wheat flour the market has been dull and gradually declining.

It is too early to judge of the position which this wheat will take in the New York market; but it is the opinion of the best and most experienced flour dealers and millers here, that it will, to a great extent, take the place formerly occupied by "Red Ohio." In Buffalo, Oswego, and points adjacent, we learn that the millers are grinding it almost exclusively; and our commercial readers are well aware that we have shipped upwards of 12,000 bushels by railway to supply mills at Pittsburgh.

The fact is, the grain is good and sound, and there is no danger of its heating, even in the warmest weather; for the crop was thoroughly cured in the fields—there being little or no rain to damage it during harvest.

☞ The first thing Long John did on his return to this city, was to perpetrate a lie on N. B. Judd. For instance, speaking of the resignation of the State Treasurer, he says:

"Mr. Judd came home post haste, and started East Tuesday night for the State Agency in New York city."

When people were reading this statement in the Democrat yesterday morning, N. B. Judd was walking about the streets of Chicago. There is no "State Agency" office in New York.

Fresh Troubles on the Border.

Reports were current in Independence, last Thursday, that fresh troubles had broken out in the vicinity of Fort Scott, in Kansas, between the Missourians and the inhabitants of the Territory. It was said that 500 armed Missourians had crossed over the border, and that armed parties from Lawrence, Topeka and Ossawatamie had gone down to meet them.—St. Louis News.

The Law of Fairs.

Editors Press and Tribune:

One special legislative enactment, for the prevention of outside disturbances &c., at Fairs, has been pretty generally published in your city papers, but there are laws of necessity, sanctioned by custom, of still greater moment on this occasion; a brief sketch of which is here presented.

As cities, and more especially certain interests therein, are largely benefitted by the location of a great State or National Fair, within or near their borders, it has always been considered no more than justice to the Fair that those particular interests should provide grounds and fixtures, and the city or county authorities furnish an adequate police force, free of all charge to the Society. This Chicago has done, and is doing on a scale of liberality, and even magnificence, unequalled in the history of perambulating Fairs.

Second—No great Fair was ever yet gotten up without the liberal co-operation of Railroads and other public conveyances, and never before was this essential element of success, so broadly and freely conceded, as at this Chicago Fair, of the National Agricultural Society. It is believed that at least 50,000 strangers will avail themselves of the privileges of the occasion, and the people of Chicago are bound to feed and lodge them. And the law of Fairs says, that no well man can claim a whole bed—much less a room—to himself, at a public house, during the week of the Fair; and it is lawful for the proprietors of lodging houses to spread two beds on the floor for every one in ordinary use in the house; and if clean and dry, no person has a right to take exception to the quality or arrangement thereof.

The next law is one that should be more religiously observed; it is this. When private dwellings are opened to honored guests of the societ, or friends of the family, either, it is unlawful for such families to provide dinners for their guests at home. This is to enable the household to attend the Fair, during some part of each day, and to obviate any inconvenience or privation, from this rule, ample provision has been made for good and cheap meals, and capital cold collations on the Fair grounds. And, if these two last laws are duly observed, no one of the vast crowd, sure to be here, will be without a plentiful supply of food, and a place of shelter and rest—the one great desideratum with all Fair-goers.

Very respectfully, your friend,
JOHN A. KENNICOTT.

Wisconsin Republican Convention.

In addition to what we gave yesterday morning of the doings of this Convention, we obtain the following by way of Milwaukee: Carl Schurz was nominated for Lieut. Governor by acclamation. L. P. Harvey was nominated for Secretary of State, and S. D. Hastings was nominated for Treasurer by acclamation.

Mr. Schurz made a speech declining the nomination for Lieut. Governor. He disclaimed all personal feeling in the matter, saying that his highest ambition was to be a laborer in the Republican party in 1860. At the close of his speech he was loudly cheered.

The Thorndike will Case.

In the Probate Court of Boston, Judge Ames has given a decision in the case of the will of the late Augustus Thorndike, contested by Lieut. Marin and his wife, who was a daughter of the devisor, disinherited by the will. The will was contested on the ground that Mr. Thorndike was not a resident of Boston at the time it was made. Judge Ames decided that Mr. Thorndike was a resident of Suffolk county at the time the will was made, and he admits it to Probate. The Boston Journal understands that the contestants will carry the matter to the Supreme Court, on the question of the condition of Mr. Thorndike's mind when the will was made,

Washington News.

[Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Herald.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30, 1859.

Senator Trumbull is in town for a few days, attending to his duties as Chairman of the Republican Document Committee. This body has been quietly but industriously distributing ammunition over the Northern and Northwestern States this summer, in the shape of tracts on the slave trade, Homestead bill, contract frauds, Pacific Railway, &c. Senator Trumbull is one of the most energetic men in the party, and his influence is more dreaded by Judge Douglas in Illinois than that of Lincoln.

Friends of Douglas are now pretending that all Northern Democrats are for him for President, hoping thereby to influence the South. To the same end they also represent that A. H. Stephens, of Georgia, will run on the same ticket as Vice President; that Senators Brown of Mississippi, and Green of Missouri are for him; and also that the whole South are anxious to support him on the ground that he is the only Democrat who can carry Northern States enough to help the South elect. It is a trick too transparent to deceive any one.

Death of Col. Wm. Carpenter.

We regret to announce the decease of Col. William Carpenter, one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens. His death occurred about 10 o'clock yesterday morning after a painful and distressing illness.

Col. Carpenter came to this county in 1820, and he has grown up with it; having by his careful habits and strict integrity, amassed a considerable fortune. He has been a member of the Legislature for Sangamon County, and has repeatedly occupied offices in the county and City Government. At his death he was in his seventy-third year. He leaves a large family and a host of warm personal friends all through the Sangamon country to mourn his departure.—Springfield Journal, Aug. 31.

Republican Congressional Convention in the 14th Ohio District.

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 31.

The Republican Convention for the Fourteenth Congressional District, met in Harrisville, Medina County, yesterday, and nominated Harrison G. Blake, of Medina, for Congress, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Cyrus Spink.

The District is strongly Republican, and Mr. Blake's election is about as near certain as anything in the future may be said to be.

Pork-House Destroyed by Fire--Loss $25,000.

After two o'clock this morning an extensive fire broke out in the pork-house of McKeehan & Evans, on the corner of Ninth and Sycamore. It originated in the smoke-house, which was located in the back part of the building, and contained a large quantity of pork. The loss will probably reach $25,000, for both the upper stories were completely destroyed. It is entirely covered by insurance.—Cin. Enquirer, 1st.

Cincinnati Pork House Destroyed.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1st.—At two o'clock this morning, McKeehan & Evans' pork-house, corner of Sycamore and Ninth streets, was entirely destroyed by fire. The building contained 3,000,000 pounds of meat, most of which is lost. Loss estimated at $50,000; fully insured.

MOORE'S MERCHANT'S POLICE.—Capt. Moore, who has a large number of subscribers for the useful services of his Merchant's Police force, in the best part of our city, has often well demonstrated the utility of his special mission in particular attention to premises and property in his charge, which it is his order to visit often during the night in the thoroughly watched beats required of his men. The following figures made up from his books for the last six months, tell the same story:

No. 1st class stores front doors found unfastened, 41; No. 1st class stores alley doors and windows found unfastened, 40; No. do. office doors found unfastened, 7; No. 2d class stores and basement doors found unfastened, 36; No. of stores where goods have been found left outside and returned to owners of same, 32; No. of stores with smaller matters out of order and reported, 101; No. of arrests made and placed into the hands of the city police, 11.

A CACHE DISCOVERED.—What the old trappers would call a cache was discovered yesterday morning under the sidewalk between Market and Franklin street, a cavity containing two trunks, one of wood and the other of leather. They were taken to the Marshal's office, opened and found to contain such a variety of articles as to leave no doubt but that they are filled with stolen property. The articles embrace coats, pants, vests, boots, two valises, daguerreotypes, pipes, tobacco boxes, hooks pamphlets, sheet and book music, augurs, files, knives, chisels, lasts, a quantity of wax, a box of cork, an adze, razors, soap, brushes, two jars of brimstone, a large box of needles and other articles too numerous to mention. In one of the books, was the name "Danl. L. Jones." There was also a notice to the same person, of a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association from Cyrus Bentley. The property and trunks are at the City Marshal's office.

LATER.—The sequel to the above is funny and shows the danger of circumstantial evidence, since these indications of some deed of roguery were whittled down to nothing, by the appearance of Mr. Jones himself at the City Marshal's office yesterday afternoon after the contents of the trunks had been pretty thoroughly aired, with the explanation that he put the trunks under the sidewalk while looking for a boarding house. The trunks were delivered over to him, the officers drew off upon another scent, the reporters put up their pencils, with the exception of those disposed to make the most of this item.

THE NEW ROUTE TO FREEPORT—QUICK WORK IN THE COMPLETION OF THE LINE.—Under many disadvantages, greatly enhanced by the pressure of the times, we have already informed our readers that the line of the Racine and Mississippi Railroad has been completed to Freeport. By its intersection with the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, another direct connection is opened between Freeport and this city, and this, too, comes timely for its managers to compete for the large amount of business to be created by the Illinois State Fiar, to be held at that place next week.

Concerning one portion, and that the last completed of this line, a few words deserve to be said. On the first day of June, Messrs. R. B. Mason, Keith & Co. commenced to build the last of fourteen miles of the road between Davis station and Freeport. The work was of the heaviest character ever known in this region, with much rock cutting, one in particular about 5 miles from Freeport, being almost an anomaly in railroad building in Illinois. The last spike was driven on this contract on Monday the 29th ult., the time of the contract being to Sept. 1st. In the last two days four miles of iron were laid down. The contractors are men of known energy, and Thomas Snell, Esq., the acting man on the work, has achieved enviable laurels for prompt and quick work. Messrs. Keith and Snell were both formerly on the Ill. Central Railroad, and held extensive contracts on that line. It is doubtful, however, if ever in the State a better summer's work was accomplished than on the now completed line. By advertisement it will be seen the Superintendent Dunlap of the Northwestern, has commenced running regular trains to Freeport, and at excursion rates for the Fair week there.

The Illinois State Fair.

Everything is represented as being in a most promising state of forwardness at Freeport, and State Fair week, to open on Monday next, is to be most notable among all previous like occasions, from the extent and character of the display promised and already beginning to be indicated. As they should do, our own citizens are very numerously preparing to secure at the State Fair a prominent place for the contributions from the trade and manufactures of our city.

At the Machine Hall, the Eagle Works of Messrs. Gates & Co., of this city is to be represented by a first class steam engine, which is to supply the power requisite in that department of the exhibition. The buildings in general are spacious and entirely suitable for their destined purposes, and the arrangements reflect the highest credit on the Managers of the Fair.

If we mistake not the Erricson Caloric Engine is to prove one of the wonders of the Fair, and several of these engines of the various classes are, we learn, to be in operation.

The arrangements made by the railroad companies for reaching Freeport, are on a most ample and liberal scale. A choice may be had between two direct routes, via the Galena R. R., and the Chicago and Northwestern. We hear of a very numerous attendance promised from Chicago at the State Fair.

HORSE THIEF ARRESTED.—On the strength of a dispatch received here from Freeport yesterday officers Asa Williams and Henry Kauffman arrested in a livery stable on Couch Place a man named Michael H. Dolan upon the charge of stealing a horse from that place. Both the man and the animal were found and will be taken back by officers from Freeport. Dolan alleges that he traded a lame horse for the one in question, at Mount Carroll, and when he arrived in Freeport was arrested for stealing it, had his trial and was discharged.

MELANCHOLY RAILROAD CASUALTIES.—An employee of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago R. R., Thomas Brown, an engineer on a freight train, was instantly killed at Massillon, on Saturday night. He was running the night freight train, and in crossing a bridge his engine was thrown off into the creek, crushing him to death.

On the afternoon of the same day the train boy on the Eastern express train was killed by falling between the cars. His remains were taken to Canton.

THE CHICAGO UNIVERSITY.—The fall term of the new University at Cottage Grove commences on the 19th inst., to which time the friends of this noble enterprise are looking forward with anticipation. The building is a beautiful structure, finely located and very amply furnished in part, that is, the work has been commenced on a scale of much liberality and taste, and is now being carried out entirely by the ladies of our State, those of our own city justly and properly taking the lead. Other localities in the State are not, however, forgetting the claims of this great educational enterprise. The Christian Times of last week says:

In about six weeks the building was put into a condition to be occupied, and a sufficient number of rooms for the students in attendance during the summer term fitted up. The carpet committe, consisting of Mrs. P. F. W. Peck and Mrs. Thomas Hoyne, of this city, completed their work, having carpeted every room in the building, at an expense of more than $700. Other committees have made good progress, but as yet a number of articles are wanting. As was intimated, it was not expected that ladies in most of the places out of Chicago would have their contributions in readiness before about the first of September. A number of places, however, have anticipated that time: Rockford, in cash, $100, and valuable boxes of goods from each church; Tabernacle Church, Peoria, cash $25, and a box of goods; Belvidere, cash $50; Bristol, box of goods; Mrs. Allen, Decatur, $5. Several other places have been heard from as having their contributions nearly ready.

The near approach of the opening of the next year, (September 19th,) when every room in the building will be needed, renders it necessary that the work of furnishing should at once be completed. Comfortables, blankets, pillows, and, most of all, money, for the purchase of stoves, bedsteads, &c., are now the articles of first necessity.

Articles of clothing and sheets and pillow cases, suitable for students who are pursuing their studies with limited means, will be thankfully received and distributed under the direction of the receiving committee.

The committees in the several places which have not yet reported, Ladies' Societies, and all who feel an interest in this work, are requested at once to communicate to the Recording Secretary, Mrs. E. W. Brayman, Chicago, what may be expected from them.

A SENTINEL OFF DUTY.—Our neighbor of the Sentinel, at Milwaukee, got some to relieve guard, while he and "Angeline," as it appears, came up hereaway, on the steamer City of Cleveland, on the excursion on Wednesday last. What were his experiences here he tells too well not to have a chance to report it to our readers:

Arrived at Chicago at 5 P.M.; had a faint recollection of reading in the advertisement, that we were to arrive at three. Went forward to reprimand the Captain, and found the boat was aground at Clark st. bridge. Sarcastic man on shore, asked us how long we were going to stay there. Imaginative young lady wrote an impromptu on the subject. The following is the first stanza:

Oh how dreadful, in the hour of joy,
When wild excitement courses through the blood;
To hear a voice exulting cry, "Ahoy
I say—you're sticking in the mud,"

Chicago getting to be quite a town. Inhabitants dress in woolen and linsey-woolsey, and wear spikes in their shoes to enable them to climb the sidewalks. The streets present a very Alpine attractiveness. Craggy elevations and sudden vales make it quite a relief after the dull evenness at Milwaukee. Heard a native of the city singing the ranche des vanches on the lofty summit of an opposite pavement; made a note of the thrilling effect.

Went to McVicker's with the ladies; had to knock up a respectable shoemaker on the way, to get Angeline a new pair of gaiters; she not being used to climbing. McVicker's prettiest little theatre west of Buffalo. Saw the Love Chase; very chaste production. Met a man of intelligent face and gentlemanly manner; found he came from Milwaukee; asked us to put up at his house for a week; declined, as his front door was reached by means of a forty-foot ladder; Angeline can't climb a ladder well.

FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL,

ON FIFTH AVENUE,

At the Intersection of Broadway, opposite Madison Square,

NEW YORK.

To be Opened August 23d, 1859.

This location is the most desirable of any in this great metropolis, being the most healthy, delightful, and central in the city, and very near and convenient to the Hudson River and Boston Railroad Depots.

The entire arrangements of the establishment are the result of mature study and experience, and render it the most comfortable and home-like hotel in the world.

All the improvements that comfort and convenience have suggested, have been introduced.

Every precaution has been taken, during construction, to secure the positive safety of guests from the danger of conflagration. Subdivision double brick walls extend from the rock foundation to the roof. All of the floors are double, and are separated by a layer of cement, making the entire structure fire-proof.

Among other important improvements, in addition to the usual stairways, a VERTICAL RAILWAY is nearly completed to convey guests from the first to the upper floors, upon a plan which admits of no possibility of accident.

Lofty, spacious and continuous corridors, forming a promenade of eight hundred feet upon each of the six stories, give light and air, in the highest degree, to every apartment.

A liberal space has been appropriated to public Drawing Rooms and Parlors, connecting with which and the Dining Room there is a grand Promenade Hall. Suites of Apartments, Parlors, Chambers and Dressing Rooms, with all the modern conveniences, have been especially designed for the comfort of families, travelling parties, and single gentlemen.

An Exchange, containing the Journals of the day, and all the conveniences for commercial intercourse and business, has been added to the many other features of the Hotel, and there is a Telegraph Office connecting with all parts of the country.

Billiard and Chess Rooms of the most approved style and appointments are provided for the use of guests and the public.

The Furniture, and every article of use in the establishment, has been expressly designed and manufactured for the FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL.

All communications for apartments, or upon any business connected with the house, please direct to "FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL," in order to insure immediate attention.

The entire organization of this Hotel has been under the direction of MR. PARAN STEVENS, proprietor of the Revere and Tremont Houses in Boston, and Battle House and Point Clear Houses in Mobile.

Although the following note was probably intended for our own eyes only, still we presume the writer can have no objection to its publication; and as it furnishes us with the opportunity to say a few things we desire our readers to know, we take the liberty of laying it before them.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 18, 1859.

Dear Sirs:—We appreciate very highly the valuable services rendered by the Press and Tribune to the cause of progress and liberality of thought, and we admire its able championship of the principles of the Republican party; but we, in this region, should feel still more grateful if its gentlemanly conductors would spare us the violence and bad taste they display so constantly in their personal difficulties with Mr. Wentworth. We know but little of the merits of the quarrel down here, but even W.'s most bitter enemies must tire and nauseate over the ceaseless harping on one theme. The quarrels and rivalries of editors and leading men in our ranks do not interest men who are fighting for principles, and not for spoils. They are simply wearisome and disgusting to all but the parties themselves.

Petty individual griefs need not be constantly paraded before the public by an editor more than by any other man. I have spoken above the feelings and sentiments of many warm friends of the Press and Tribune. May it long remain the powerful advocate of great public interests, and of manly free thought, speech and action.

B. Lewis.

Thanking the writer for his cordial appreciation of the efforts of the Press and Tribune to advance the Republican cause, we proceed at once to reply to his strictures upon its course in relation to the matter of which he complains:

I. We have no personal quarrel with Mr. Wentworth; nor is there any business rivalry between us, so far at least as our establishment is concerned. Were the Chicago Democrat stricken from existence to-day, it would not add a single dollar to our business; we should not have a subscriber more or less for the event, our advertising columns would not be any more crowded than they now are, nor would the capacity of our job printing office be any more fully tested than it now is. Whatever may be the motive therefore, which induces us to occasionally notice Mr. Wentworth and his paper, nothing can be further from the truth than the one attributed to us by Mr. Lewis. What the real motive is we shall directly show.

II. Were Mr. Lewis a reader of the Chicago Democrat, instead of finding fault with us for what we have believed it our duty to say, he would marvel at our forbearance, and question whether loyalty to the Republican party and its principles did not demand much more of us in this respect. For the information of himself and others who are not in the habit of reading the Democrat, we will state, that for more than six months past, it has labored with great zeal and ingenuity to disorganize the Republican party. Mr. Wentworth will not long remain a member of any political organization which he cannot control and make subservient to his own personal ends. This degree of power he has never been able to acquire in the Republican party; and for some time back it has been no secret in certain circles here, that he contemplated its entire abandonment so soon as he could make satisfactory terms with the Democratic party. To secure this end he has thrown off all restraint, and openly, through his paper and through intrigue and management outside of it, for the last six months, he has sought to arouse personal jealousies, rivalries and animosities among leading Republicans throughout the State, and to excite the hostility of the masses of the party against such prominent Republicans as have always refused to be used as tools for the advancement of his selfish and corrupt purposes. By this course he hopes to obtain better terms in his pending trade with the Democratic party, and he also hopes to so weaken the Republicans in Illinois as to render them powerless hereafter to defeat the Democracy. We appeal to the columns of his paper any time within the last six months, to the letters which he has written to prominent Republicans in different parts of the State, and to the testimony borne every day on our streets by the Irish wing of the Democracy, as to the intention of Wentworth to unite with them,—as a full warrant for these several charges. Rarely a day is suffered to pass that he does not publish, with all the blazonry of large type and displayed captions, column after column of the vilest calumnies and the meanest insinuations that malignity can invent, against the Republican party and prominent Republicans. Frequently the same charges, with variations to give them the zest of novelty, are cooked up in daily dishes; and frequently whole columns of this kind of stuff, intended to poison the minds of such Republicans as never hear or see the contradiction, are left standing in his paper for days and weeks together. These miserable falsehoods, these calumnious inventions, these fratricidal stabs, are greedily seized upon by the Democratic organs,—the Chicago Times, the State Register, and the Quincy Herald,—whose readers cary them to every cross-road, to every groggery and other place of public resort in their respective neighborhoods, where they are retailed to Republicans as the admissions of a Republican leader. Now, under these circumstances, what is our duty as conductors of a Republican journal—as men who, like Mr. Lewis, are fighting for principle and principle only? Shall we suffer the bold conspirator who does not even cloak his designs, proceed day after day in the work of compassing the ruin of the cause which we, as well as Mr. Lewis, have at heart, without lifting a warning voice? Would Mr. Lewis, and those for whom he professes to speak, have us remain silent under this state of facts? Is that what we are to understand by his note of advice? We know John Wentworth to be plotting against the Republican party in Illinois—every well informed man in Chicago knows it—and will Mr. Lewis tell us that we are true to the cause which it is the mission of the party to advance, if we hold our peace and let him go on without exposure. May he be permitted, from the basest motives that can stir the human heart and strengthen human resolution, to labor day after day to break down the Republican administration of this city as the shortest road to breaking down the party in the State—may he be permitted falsely to couple the names of our best men with the most monstrous and loathsome crimes, while we are to be kept silent lest, perchance, Mr. Lewis, or some other worthy Republican, should attribute our exposures to a "personal quarrel" which has no existence, or to a "business rivalry" which lives only in the imagination? We desire the good will and confidence of Mr. Lewis, because we know him to be a most worthy man in all the relations of life, as well as a devoted Republican—but sooner than purchase it at such a price, we would sink our presses and types to the depths of Lake Michigan and seek some other calling.

III. John Wentworth does not claim to be a Republican, nor does his paper any longer advocate Republican doctrines. Less than ten days since he expressed his preference, through its columns, for Sam. Houston for the Presidency—a man who voted for the Lecompton Constitution, and sustains the entire policy of Mr. Buchanan's administration. He has not advocated a Republican measure within that time, nor has he spoken favorably of a solitary Republican in the State, unless it was some one whom he thought he could play off against another Republican. With a very few exceptions, Republicans do not take his paper. One by one they have dropped it, as the object of its conductor became more and more apparent; and so far as their places have been supplied on his subscription list at all, it has been by the Irish Democracy—the branch of the party with which he has traded, and with which, in former times, he always controlled that party in this State. Republicans in Chicago neither patronize him by taking his paper nor by advertising in it. They refrain from the latter partly on account of its insignificant circulation, and partly because its reading is confined to a class whose business patronage is not desirable. Were it not for the Sheriff's advertisements, the promise of which he obtained in advance of election, his columns would scarcely show a new advertisement per week. Of itself, it is as insignificant and as destitute of influence as it is possible for a newspaper to be. Its power for influence—and this is the sole reason why we ever turn aside to notice it—consists in the fact that, having heretofore claimed to be a Republican journal, whatever appears in its columns disparaging to the Republican party or to Republican men, is seized upon by Democratic papers, and sent all over the State. We say to Mr. Lewis and to any others who may have fallen into the same error, that the greatest injury they can do the Republican cause, is to continue to recognize Mr. Wentworth as a Republican and his paper as a Republican paper. In doing so they are strengthening the hands of the Democratic party, enabling them to assail our men and our principles upon Republican authority. If they are "fighting for principles"—and we doubt not they are—let them at least not stand in the way of those who would shield these principles from the attacks of their most dangerous and malignant foe.

"LAW OF TRADE."

We publish a communication elsewhere signed "Law of Trade," in which the writer discusses the issues between Eastern importers and Western buyers. The suggestions presented are all very well, but as the writer lays much stress on the assumption that the commercial evils under discussion are entirely in the hands of the people, to be corrected or exaggerated at their option—calling on us to "lay the axe at the root of the tree," by decrying the wasteful personal expenses of the people—we have a single remark to make. How are we to enforce such a policy as that recommended by "Law of Trade?" Will the arguments or denunciations of a life-time diminish the consumption of foreign fabrics one dollar per annum? No. We venture to say that the writer of this communication will not postpone the purchase of a new coat five minutes after he thinks he needs it, in answer to all the statistics we could give him added to all the political economy he himself could evolve in a twelvemonth. And even though he should square his personal expenses to the precise angle of his theories, his family and neighbors would hoot at him if he should essay to make a practical example of his reform among their personal expenses. What is true of him and his neighbors, is true of other people and their neighbors. How ridiculous it would appear for a man of liberal feelings and affluent circumstances to address his wife and daughters thus: "You want so many dollars' worth of gloves, silks, ribbons, gold "watches, etc. I want so many dollars' worth "of broadcloth and patent leather boots. We "have been accustomed to having them heretofore. We can afford to have them now "without the least inconvenience. But I have "learned that the West is suffering from excessive importations. If we buy these things "we shall encourage more importations and "perhaps help to bring on a panic. Therefore you must try and get along with calico "and brass clocks, and I with kerseymere and "cowhide!"

Is our correspondent quite sure that he has found the "root of the tree?"

A "DRUMMOND" LIGHT IN MAINE.

The Boston Atlas and Bee serves up for the benefit of the people of Maine the history of a somewhat notorious resident of Chicago, yclept "Utah Drummond." Drummond, it appears, is making Buchanan speeches in Maine, and we presume is log-rolling privately for Douglas, under the pay of both parties. The Chicago Times passed a eulogy on him some weeks since. The subject of the narrative in the Atlas and Bee is two well known hereabouts to require any further exposition of his public and private life than his own acts have supplied. Partly for this reason, partly on account of the complete insignificance of Drummond, socially politically and otherwise, and partly for the sake of public morals, we refrain from printing the article. The course of the Atlas and Bee is excusable in view of Drummond's proceedings in the Pine State, where no doubt he is getting himself introduced to respectable men and women. But for this danger to society in Maine we should deem any allusion to him in newspaper columns unwarranted if not indictable.

A Twenty-seven Thousand Dollar Forgery.

An astounding and unaccountable forgery of $27,000 in certificates of deposit of the American Exchange Bank of New York, has just been made public in Pittsburgh. The swindlers are Stephen D. Dillaye, of the N. Y. Custom House—the same who distinguished himself in a newspaper controversy with Secretary Cobb some time since—and one S. G. Langdon of the same city. On the 15th of October, 1858, Dillaye and Langdon presented themselves at the counter of the Citizens' Bank, in Pittsburgh, with two certificates of deposit on the American Exchange Bank of New York—one for the sum of $12,500; the other for $15,000; in all $27,500. Mr. Langdon represented that they had come from New York with a view to invest largely in the stock of the Monongahela Valley Bank, the books of which were to be opened on the following day at McKeesport, Pa. The President of the Citizens' Bank, Oliver Blackburn, Esq., was absent at the time, and E. D. Jones, Esq., the cashier, examined the certificates. They were fac similes of those used by the American Exchange, and appeared genuine on their faces. Mr. Langdon was not unknown, having been engaged in the publication of a Detector in Cincinnati at one time, and bearing with him the recommendation of the firm of C. E. Nourse & Co., Bankers, of that city. Mr. Jones without hesitation counted out the money, which Mr. Dillaye took, while Mr. Langdon endorsed the certificates. The junto then left for McKeesport; previously, however, one of them requested Mr. Jones to allow the certificates to remain in the bank a few days, and they would themselves lift them, thus making the Citizens' Bank the gainer of one half per cent.—the difference on exchange—by the operation.

About this time it occurred to Mr. Jones to telegraph to the American Exchange Bank to inquire if it was all right. An answer was returned immediately that it was not—the certificates were forgeries. No time was lost by the bank officers in hastening to McKeesport, where, sure enough, they found Dillaye and Langdon subscribing for enormous amounts of stock in the Monongahela Valley Bank, and paying cash down. Langdon made a rapid flight down the back stairs, Dillaye bristled up, protested his innocence, and threatened terrible things if anybody should breathe aught against his good name, while the Bank Commissioners quietly confiscated the $27,000, and cancelled the Dillaye-Langdon stock.

No steps were taken to bring the villains to justice, until about the 13th of August last, when Mr. Jones lodged information with the Mayor of Pittsburg, who issued his warrant for Langdon and Dillaye, and an officer was dispatched to New York on the 23d ult., where he arrested Langdon on the 26th. Dillaye was out of the city, and has not yet been arrested. Langdon was taken to Pittsburgh, where he arrived on the 28th. He throws the responsibility on Dillaye. He says that Dillaye was to furnish $45,000 to take stock in the Monongahela Bank. When the time came, he failed to furnish a dollar, and the necessity presented itself in such shape as suggested the forgery of the certificates.

Wheat on Rock Prairie.

A gentleman informs the Beloit Journal that one day last week, he counted 738 stacks of grain within sight of the prairie road, between that city and Janesville, a distance of a little more than twelve miles. Taking into consideration the fact that a considerable portion of the grain had already been thrashed, as was indicated by a large number of straw heaps, this story well sustains the high reputation of Rock County for grain producing.

An Enormous Amount of Grain within five miles of Ripon, Wis.—Within a circuit of five miles about Ripon, there can be seen from the top of Brockway College, says the Ripon Star, over 700 stacks of grain, and when a telescope was used there could be seen 1,494 stacks. In some directions the limit of observation was only a mile, and in some directions farms were concealed from view. The Star thinks what was seen was less than one half of the product of the square of ten miles, with Ripon for the centre. There must then be 3,000 stacks, and farmers estimate a stack at from 100 to 300 bushels, which would make at least 500,000 bushels in sight, and the Star thinks there must have been in all that 10 miles square, full 1,000,000 bushels.

Basis of Representation in the next National Convention.

The Boston Atlas gives the points or substance of a long and able letter to the National Era, written by Gen. Ashley, the Republican member of Congress from the Toledo (Ohio) district, in these words:

Mr. Ashley is in favor of having the delegates to the National Republican Convention elected by districts, and by a ballot vote. He is also in favor of having the Convention held in some city west of the Alleghanies, either at Pittsburg, Wheeling, Cincinnati or St. Louis. He is in favor of each district sending delegates according to the ratio of the Republican and American or Opposition vote which each district cast at the last Congressional election preceding the day for choosing delegates. He is for one delegate for each Congressional district, without regard to the number of Republican votes cast, and an additional delegate for every 8,000 Republican votes. The Republican State Conventions of the several States only electing two or four delegates for the State at large, as the Republican National Committee may determine.

Mr. Ashley can see no reason why a district like the Egypt district in Illinois, which cast only three thousand Republican votes, should have as large a representation in the National Convention as the third district, in the same State, which cast eight times that number. Mr. Ashley believes that if the plan which he proposes for the election of delegates should be adopted, that it will preserve the Republican party and Republican principles from being oversloughed in the Convention by old fogydom, or by others who think they can best achieve a victory in 1860, by changing our platform and breaking down the strict Republican organization.

To this plan the Atlas raises the following objections:

In the first place it is a new system, and is somewhat complicated. It would bar out of the Convention every delegate from a Southern State, with the single exception of one from the Republican city of St. Louis. Under the rule proposed, such a man as Cassius M Clay, for instance, could not act in the convention were he to present himself there, elected by the Republicans or anti slavery men in Kentucky. We think that Mr. Ashley would be among the first to break his own rule, were that distinguished Kentuckian to present his credentials and ask for a seat in the convention.

It would make of necessity the nominations sectional in their character, while in 1856 they were only so because the Southern States refused to send delegates. Under a call such as Mr. Ashley proposes the entire Southern anti-slavery sentiment would have no voice in the convention, which would be unjust, and would operate injuriously against us in the campaign.

The Atlas wholly misconceives Gen. Ashley's basis of representation, which is singular, seeing that it quotes him correctly. The Atlas says that the new "plan would bar out of the Convention every delegate from a Southern State!" How so? Gen. Ashley distinctly states that he "would give one delegate to each Congressional district without regard to the number of Republican votes they cast." By this rule Kentucky would be entitled to ten delegates for her ten Congressional districts, and four for the State at large, or fourteen in all. How, we ask the Atlas would such a "rule exclude Cassius M. Clay, if he presented his credentials, from taking his seat in the Convention;" or how would it "make of necessity, the nominations sectional in their character?"

According to the plan suggested by Gen. Ashley, every Southern State which desires to send delegates, can hold as many seats in the Convention as it has Congressional districts, in addition to the two or four delegates for the State at large. This is certainly a very liberal representation to States none of which will cast an electoral vote for the Republican candidate. But Gen. Ashley does not think it would be fair that Tennessee, which will not probably poll 1,000 Republican ballots, should count as many votes in the choice for the candidate as Republican Massachusetts; or Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan to count with 280,000 Republican votes, the same as North Carolina with 250 votes; or Kentucky to equal Indiana; or Maryland as heavy as Vermont, Kansas and Rhode Island; or Virginia to weigh down Illinois and Connecticut, or Missouri to counterbalance Maine and Oregon. It is hardly fair that huge Republican districts in the West, polling twenty to thirty thousand votes apiece, should have no more representation than districts in the South where there are hardly Republicans enough to furnish delegates. The States which elect the Republican Electors, who in turn elect the President, should surely have a more potential voice than the States in which the Republican party is just struggling into existence, and whose future growth depends upon the success of the party in the other States. As Cassius M Clay has been named, we may safely state in reference to his case, that he would not object to some such basis of representation as that suggested by Gen. Ashley of Ohio. The plan proposed, is simply this: 1st. Give to each Congressional District, in all the States, which wish to be represented, one delegate, and one additional delegate for every 8,000 Republican votes cast at the last Congressional election, and if the fraction over 8,000 in any district shall exceed 5,000, another delegate. 2d. Four delegates to represent the State at large. 3d. Each district to choose its own delegates, and the delegates at large to be chosen to by State Conventions. He proposes that in districts where the Americans and Anti Lecompton Democrats united with the Republicans as in Pennsylvania, Indiana, New York and New Jersey, to take the whole opposition vote as the basis, which would be fair and satisfactory.

Suppose the National Central Committee should adopt this plan, Illinois would be entitled to the following representation: 1st. District cast 15,811 Republican votes, three delegates; 2d District, 21,799 votes, four delegates; 3d District, 22,313 votes, four delegates; 4th District, 19,487 votes, three delegates; 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th district, casting about 11,500 each two delegates, and the 9th district 2,960 votes one delegate, to which add four for the State at large, total 27 delegates. On the horizontal basis of two delegates to a district, Illinois would be entitled to 22 delegates, and Kentucky to 24: while by Gen. Ashley's plan the former would have 27 and the latter 14. Michigan would have 17 delegates, and by the horizontal plan only 12. Iowa would have 12 votes by Ashley's, and only 8 by the Atlas' method; Wisconsin 15 delegates, or 10 on the Atlas' basis: while Virginia would come into the Convention with 30 votes instead of 17, Tennessee, 24, instead of 14, North Carolina 20 instead of 12, Maryland 16 instead of 10, Missouri 18 instead of 11, Delaware 6 instead of 5. In short, the effect would be to weaken the Western States in the Convention, and give the control of that body into the hands of the delegates from the border Slave States, where there are at best but a handful of Republicans. Our friends in the Slave States do not ask this advantage, and justice requires that they should not have it.

Dubuque and Pacific Railroad Extension.

[From the Dubuque Times, 27th ult.]

Gen. Booth, who has just returned from the East, brings the gratifying intelligence that a contract for the extension of the Dubuque and Pacific Railroad was perfected on Thursday last, and that work upon the road will be commenced immediately! Oliver P. Root, of Oneida, Oneida Co., N. Y., has the contract for the entire extension from Nottingham to a point ten miles beyond Independence, and according to the terms of the agreement he is to have the road completed to Manchester, nine miles from Nottingham, by the 1st of October next; to Winthrop, twenty miles from Nottingham, by the 1st of November next; to a point five miles beyond Independence, by the 1st of December next; and to complete the balance of the aggregate distance of eighty miles from Dubuque by the first of January next!

Mr. Root will be here next week, and put the necessary working force into immediate operation. He is a practical engineer, a man of great energy and abundant pecuniary ability, and has had much experience in railroad construction. The people of Dubuque and along the projected route of the Dubuque and Pacific Road may therefore congratulate themselves that the extension westward of this great corporate work is now to be recommenced!

Trouble on the Michigan Southern R. R.

We learn that considerable discontent has been manifested by the employees of this road, growing out of the delay in the payment of their wages, consequent on its light receipts and embarrassments. Meetings have been held at La Porte and Adrian, at which resolutions were passed, to the effect that they would work until the 1st of September, when, unless three months wages were paid, they would all quit work. An attempt was made at the Adrian meeting to add a resolution that no others should be allowed to work in their place—but the good sense of the majority very properly put it down. So far as we can learn, the movement seems to be directed without that spirit of excess and ill-blood, which is too common on similar occasions. It is to be hoped that the officers will be able (and no one doubts their disposition) to arrange the matter in a manner to answer the purposes of the employees and avoid embarrassment to the operations of the road.—Toledo Blade.

The South Park Gold Mines.

Mr. L. M. Bowdoin has shown us a letter from his brother in-law G. B. Curtis, dated Russell's Gulch, Aug. 10th, in which the writer speaks of a great stampede from that region for the new diggings in the South Park, from which reports of very rich yields were continually coming in, Rees, Haldeman and Grist had started for the new diggings. An ounce a day (about $18) per hand was claimed as the yield there. Full one half of the miners had gone from Gregory's. The water in Russell's gulch was nearly dried up. The company with which Mr. C. was working there made about four dollars per day per man during the last week previous to date of letter; and $3.36 the previous week.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

THE FARM AND GARDEN.

When and How to Plow—When to Plow Shallow—Importance of Attending State and National Fairs.

West Urbana, Aug. 27, 1859.

In the proper and timely use of the plow consists the great element of successful farming. We have, from time to time, said much upon this subject, and much remains to be said, a part of which we propose to say at this time as it is the proper season to say it. In the north part of the State a large amount of autumn plowing is done; in the central less; and in Egypt a very little.

In the first place every acre of cultivated land should be turned over as soon after the crops are taken off as possible, so that the stubble and weeds will have rotted before the ground freezes up. This being the first dogma in our creed we will not stop to discuss it, but proceed to say how the plowing should be done. Every farmer who has grown spring wheat or oats, knows the necessity of plowing his land in the fall, for two very important reasons. One, that he can sow these grains before the land would have been in a condition to plow, thus facilitating his work. In the next place, if he has made any observations at all, he has seen that the crops are of better quality and more abundant in quantity than those sown on spring plowed land. These are facts so apparent that one need not enter into any analysis of chemical changes of soil produced by the action of frost upon the fall plowed land, to show this result.

For spring wheat and oats, the land should be plowed seven to eight inches deep, and if stubble land, the plowing should take place as soon after harvest as possible, so as to prevent an after growth of weeds, and to have the stubble well rotted before winter. Oats follow wheat to advantage; but two crops of wheat in succession is not good farming. If stubble land is plowed late in the fall, and the weeds have made their usual growth of three to four feet high in the stubble, and the land plowed three to four inches deep, the seed end of the weeds are not covered by the furrow, but the seed is scattered out over the plowed surface, and when the wheat is harrowed in, in the spring, these seeds have the same benefit of harrowing and of course are ready to spring up with the grain and to choke it out, or at least divide the ground with it, when the farmer complains of his ill luck, or curses the land as not adapted to these grains. Now if he had plowed early and deep, the soil would be in the proper condition to receive the seed, while the seed of the weeds are buried at the bottom of a deep furrow, where they would not reach the surface until the wheat had such a start that they are smothered out, and by thus giving the grain the full benefit of the soil, the crop grows vigorous and can better withstand its insect enemies, as well as being more forward, and therefore, in less danger from rust.

When we have a weedy field to plow we should put a "weed hook" upon the plow beam, so as to bring the weeds under it, when they are placed beneath the furrow entirely out of sight, showing after plowing a clean even surface, as though the land had been innocent of weeds. This weed hook is simply a curved piece of bar iron two inches wide and three eighths of an inch thick, fastened to the under side of the plow beam with a common coulter clasp, and projecting in a curved line to the open furrow. This brings all weeds and cornstalks however large or abundant under the up-turning furrow and insures their safe deposit directly beneath it. Thus in the case of a corn field, the rows of corn stalks make a corn stalk drain every four feet, while in the weed stubble the seeds of weeds instead of being scattered out over the surface of the land, are securely placed where they can do no harm. We have plowed under a compact growth of weeds six to seven feet high, placing them so completely out of sight that no one would have suspected that the evidence of previous bad culture was buried beneath the well pulverized and clean surface.

In fall plowing for an intended corn crop, a different depth is required. All farmers know that spring plowing for corn is much better than fall plowing done in the usual mode. Some farmers have a mania for deep plowing, and some a like mania for shallow plowing. Both are right and both are wrong. Plowing, for spring wheat and oats, we have said plow deep; but in fall plowing for corn, we say plow shallow, just sufficient to cover up the weeds and stubble and to leave a black surface that in early spring will absorb the rays of heat and warm up the soil. A piece of stubble thus treated will be ready for the plow some days earlier than that in which the stubble lies on its surface reflecting the heat, thus leaving the land cold and sodden, the water stands upon its surface or is slowly evaporated, absorbing all the heat to do this work before the plow can be put into it. Planting is not only late, but, the ground being cold, the seed does not come up well, the stand is poor and the growth slow. On the other hand the weeds and stubble are rotten, the surface is open to drink in the rains and absorb the heat of the sun and in re-plowing in the spring, seven or eight inches deep, as it should be done, the seeds of weeds are sent to the bottom of the furrow, out of the way, the soil is warm, the seed comes well, the stand is good and makes a vigorous growth. If the ground is plowed deep in the fall, it is no easy task to replow it in the spring; the seeds of weeds and the rotten stubble is brought to the surface, and, aside from warming up the soil by absorption of the sun's rays, nothing has been gained. The shallow plowing is done at much less expense, and it will be seen is of much more practical value. A shallow plowing farmer would do the work about right, and if he could change work in the spring with his deep-plowing neighbor, or be persuaded to vary his practice to eight inches, he will have made decided progress. A fourteen or sixteen inch cast steel plow should be used for the shallow plowing, while a twelve inch one will be as large as two horses can draw through an eight inch furrow.

Farmers cannot hope for a continuance of war or famine prices for their products, and must depend more upon their profits from economy in culture than high prices, with hap-hazard farming. We may look forward to steady reasonable prices for our products, and if we must have larger profits we must look for it in improvements that shall lessen the cost of producing. If by a judicious system we can grow corn at fifteen cents per bushel, and sell it at thirty, we shall make as much as though we had spent sixty cents and sold it for seventy-five a bushel. We may not be able to make this difference, but we firmly believe that nearly half of the ordinary cost of our farm products can be saved in their culture and fitting for market, if we will give it our careful attention.

The trial of plowing by steam and the trial of the common plows, as well as the trial of mole and open draining machines, both at the State and National Fairs, will have an important bearing upon the future of agricultural improvement; and if there were no other attractions at these Fairs, no intelligent farmer could afford to neglect the opportunity to examine their respective merits; and he who would first take advantage of cheapening his grains or grasses, must be on hand to study the probable effects of these new engines of wealth.

FROM DACOTAH.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

Fort Randall, Nebraska, Aug 23, 1859.

Thinking it might not come amiss, I will venture to give you a few items from this far off romantic country, situated on the Missouri, parallel 43° 1, North. This post was established in the winter of '55, by Gen. Harney, while in command of the Sioux expedition, since which time it has been garrisoned principally by the 2d Infantry, until this spring. There are at present four companies of the 4th Artillery stationed here under the immediate command of Col. Monroe. Another company of the same regiment is soon expected here from Fort Kearney, who will be relieved at that post by two companies of the 2d Infantry. This post is to be converted into a school of practice for Artillery. From this post to Laramie the distance is about one half that from Leavenworth, and there is no doubt but it will be the military depot for all the country lying west of this. Utah, Oregon and Upper California travelers will pass through here as soon as it is established as such. The command which lately passed over this route from Laramie have reported very favorably of it as a military road; the trip was made in fifteen days by the troops, and the steamer Florence from St. Louis made the trip to this place in 11 days. This would seem to indicate the most expeditious and cheapest route which is yet known.

Randall is situated upon a high bench of land commanding a view of Dacotah upon the east side of the river, and is a splendid site for either town or post. The beauty of the surrounding country, the richness of the soil and unsurpassed scenery, are not excelled anywhere in the valley of the Missouri. Though in the country lying adjacent to this the scarcity of timber may for a time retard the progress of settlements, it will not and cannot hinder its being speedily transformed into beautiful farms, when emigrants from the east learn of its unsurpassed soil and climate.

The Yankton Sioux Reservation lies opposite the Fort in Dacotah. It contains 400,000 acres, commencing at the mouth of Choteau River, (one hundred miles by land from Sioux City,) extending up the Missouri River thirty miles, then due north, thence easterly to a point of Choteau River, then down said river to the place of beginning, so as to include the 400,000 acres.

These Indians have this summer been removed to their reservation and received their first annuities; they likewise have a steam saw and grist mill in process of erection. Although they had until next February, by treaty, to remove upon the land assigned them, they have quietly and peaceably settled upon it this summer, and the Indian Agent has expressed his determination to protect all settlers from any molestation from them.

The crops in these parts had begun to show signs of suffering from the drought, until a few days ago, when we had a heavy fall of rain, which came seasonably, and a large extent of country, we suppose, felt the benefit of it.

Racine and Freeport United.—On Monday morning last, a few minutes past eleven o'clock, we saw the rail laid which completed the Racine Railroad to Freeport, and a few minutes afterward, on board the construction train in charge of P. VanBuskirk conductor, and Dick Bates engineer, rode over the embankment, where the connection was made.—Freeport Journal.

Eastern Importers and Western Buyers.

Editors Press and Tribune:

The enormous importations thus far this year give a very bad look to money matters. I have seen a number of good articles published in your paper, cautioning the Western merchants against purchasing such goods to bring West. The New York merchants have been cautioned against importing; first, by the recent embarrassment of the country; second, by the public prints; third, by a universal public sentiment against it. Notwithstanding all this, they have run into an extreme of importation scarcely ever before known.

You may caution your Western merchants to as little purpose as the Eastern importers. So long as Western merchants can sell these useless foreign goods, they will buy them and bring them West to sell. By an irrevocable law of trade, supply will meet demand. Let a demand for anything spring up in any part of the country, and the supply will as certainly rush to it, as air rushes to a vacuum. Just so long as there is demand for whisky, there will be hells to supply it. And so long as people will buy and use the wines, the silks and gewgaws of foreign countries, they will be imported into the Eastern cities, and thence into the West. The importer East, or the merchant West, cares not a rush for the country, or its general embarrassment, so long as they can make money out of the trade, no more than does the liquor seller care for the drunkenness, debauchery and crime in the country, so long as he can make money.

Now you must "lay the axe at the root of the tree." To stop this excessive importation, the demand must be stopped. This carries the question home to every person, to every family. Every parent, every person, must decide this question. Let each decide for himself, herself, whether such excessive importations shall be continued or not, and then act upon that decision. Let every person stop buying of the merchant. Then the merchant will stop buying of the importer. Then the importer will stop buying of the foreign manufacturer. Then the country will prosper, and not till then. The people have this question in their own hands, tariff or no tariff. You may talk about tariff till doomsday, and it will never cure the evil. The consumers are the persons to settle this question of excessive and ruinous importation.

Law of Trade.

Advertisement Extraordinary.

The advertising columns of the Illinois State Journal contain the following curious prospectus, which we insert gratis for the benefit of all parties concerned:

FUN FOR 1860!

DOUGLAS' COLUMN.

HARPER TRIUMPHANT!

The publishers of Harper's Magazine have the pleasure to announce to the public, that in their September number, just issued, they have fired the most brilliant literary rocket ever touched off.

THE "COMICALITIES,"

Which have delighted so many readers, have been expressly left out, to make room for the more mirth-provoking and laughter-exciting, burlesque, entitled—

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Mr. John F. Cleveland, one of the editors of the N. Y. Tribune, having been connected with that office since its first establishment, has retired from the Tribune staff to engage in a more lucrative employment. Mr. Cleveland is the compiler of the Tribune almanac, which will still remain under his supervision. His place on the Tribune will be taken by Mr. Robinson, its former Boston correspondent.

—Judge Johnson and Hon. Marcus J. Parrott, the Congressional nominees of their respective parties, in Kansas, are making speeches together through that Territory.

—The Des Moines Citizen says "Hon. Carl Schurz, will, it is expected, visit Iowa during the canvass, and speak to the people at several points. In the beauty of his periods, comprehensiveness of thought, and logical power, his speeches are more like those of Kossuth and Seward than those of any other man in the country. He enjoys the unbounded confidence of his countrymen, and enlists the admiration and respect of all men of all parties."

—The Lexington (Mo.) Express says that the National Democracy may as well make up their minds that Major James S. Rollins is to be the next Governor of that State.

—Gov. Moore, of Alabama, Democrat, will have about 32,000 majority for a re-election.

—Henry C. Carey, of Philadelphia, who has made himself distinguished by works on "Political Economy," and kindred topics, is being received with great distinction in Russia. His "Letters to the President" on the tariff, of recent date, have been republished there.

—Col. Townsley, the distinguished hotel landlord, who died at St. Louis a couple of weeks since, was, when a resident of Brattleboro, Vt., no less distinguished in the arts of politics than of the cuisine. He represented Brattleboro at times in the Legislature of Vermont as representative or senator, was a member of the last constitutional convention, has been presidential elector, and in 1848 came within a few votes of going to Congress—or, what is about the same thing, getting the whig nomination for it.

—Andrew Jackson Donelson, of Fillmore & Donelson, "the last named gentleman being from Tennessee," died recently in Louisiana of erysipelas.

A Flying Machine.

Mr. D. M. Cook, of Mansfield, Ohio, is getting up a flying machine, which, as will be seen by the following extract from a note to the Mansfield Herald, is expected to "get up" at a considerable rate:

I am now engaged in the construction of a house to carry on and complete my great design—the airship—and hope, by the spring of 1860, to have my favorite model aerial car, "Queen of the Air," perfected. By this invention I expect to navigate the air at will with an inconceivable velocity. The car will be twelve feet long and four and a-half feet in its equatorial diameter, and of a true pointed ellipse; and will be elevated, propelled and directed solely by the force of the electric engine, without hydrogen gas, steam, fans, or rudders.

I confidently expect to finish my experiments during the coming winter; and next summer, if successful, will make a voyage to San Francisco, breakfasting here, dining there, and returning the same day for supper, making the entire trip in about twelve hours!

Such is the kind of motor agency which has occupied my attention. As to its feasibility I will leave the world to judge for itself when this statement shall have been practically demonstrated. Respectfully, D. M. Cook.

☞ Col. Fremont, says the Mariposa Gazette, "is at least, to some extent, out of trouble, as we are happy to know. He has settled his principal matters of difficulty, and is out of the hands of the Sabeans and Pawn Breaking capitalists. He has means to go on with his improvements, and will build a new quartz mill upon the Merced river, for which he has ample water power. His mills now running are yielding very handsomely, as we are informed."

Forgery and Bigamy.

[From the Cleveland Plaindealer.]

Wm. K Evans was convicted of forgery in Scioto County, May, 1854, and sentenced to the Penitentiary at Columbus for four years. He was released in 1858, and commenced working in Columbus as a master carpenter. He was a superior workman, a man of fine appearance, and of considerably more than common intelligence. He conducted himself properly and won friends fast. He became acquainted with a teacher in one of the public schools in Columbus, an accomplished and estimable young lady from Lorain County, and after a short courtship they were married at the house of her father, in Wellington, by the Rev. Mr. Tunnels. Some two weeks since they went to Wellington on a visit.

One day, about a week ago, Evans showed her several drafts on houses in St. Louis and other places, and said he was going to Cleveland to get them cashed at the Bank of Commerce. It should have been stated that his wife was entirely ignorant of his having been in the Penitentiary.

Shortly after their marriage they joined the church together, and he had apparently ever since been a devout professor of religion. Evans left Wellington for Cleveland, promising to return on the following day. He borrowed his wife's old watch, and took his brother-in-law's silver watch to have it repaired. Mrs. Evans waited anxiously for his return, and he did not come, and she set out for Cleveland to find him.

She could not learn of him here and returned to Wellington. He had not been there in her absence, and she proceeded to Columbus. On leaving that city for Wellington, they had packed their furniture, intending to go West and live, after they had finished their visit to Wellington. On arriving in Columbus, Mrs. Evans learned that her husband had been there, sold the furniture and gone, no one knew where. She learned, also, for the first time, that Evans had been a convict, and that he had a wife and seven children living in Lewis County, Kentucky. In the stolen garb of piety the fellow is now doubtless committing rascality elsewhere.

☞ The celebrated trotter Magna Charta has been sold by his owner, E. Wright of Utica, Macomb county, Mich., for the handsome little sum of $7,500 in cash.

☞ It is quite a common observation, that consumption is the chief cause of this climate, preying upon old and young, and scattering widely its shafts of destruction. But all who have ever traveled through the South and West, or indeed through any portion of the interior of the country, must have noticed that there is a disease far more prevalent among Americans, than consumption. Day after day, they are alternately shaking, as with a nervous fit, or rendered delirious with fever. Most of them find an early grave. No one who has ever seen or experienced this disease, can fail to perceive that we allude to what is called Fever and Ague. The discoverer of a remedy for this evil must and should be considered a public benefactor, and DR. J. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is the remedy, we know from personal trial.

LOTS FOR SALE AT LAKE FOREST, ILLINOIS.

The lots belonging to LIND UNIVERSITY, and now offered for sale present favorable inducements to persons wishing to enjoy the pleasures of country life within an hours ride of the City of Chicago.

They are located at Lake Forest, on the west bank of Lake Michigan, elevated one hundred feet above the level of the Lake, about twenty-six miles north from Chicago, on both sides of the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroads, abound in mineral and other springs and natural beauties, and in the opinion of our best physicians the advantages for a healthful resort and residence are not to be exceeded by any on the sea shore or in the Western country.

A fine Academy building (the preparatory department of Lind University) has been erected the past season, and is now in successful operation in charge of S. F. Miller, A. M.

A new Passenger Depot, a Store and more than a dozen dwellings have been erected within the past year.

In addition to the regular trains an accommodation train taking passengers on commutation tickets at half the regular fare, leaves Chicago every evening, and returns every morning, thus affording business men an opportunity to attend the day in the city and be with their families at night.

A good hotel has been opened and in successful operation for more than a year past.

The Lake Forest Association have also a few lots, mostly for farming purposes, lying near the town, containing from three to ten acres each, which will be sold at reasonable prices, and on usual time.

The subscriber has, within the past year, sold over twelve thousand dollars worth of the lands belonging to the University and Association, and proposes to sell a few more lot to persons who wish them for immediate improvement and cultivation.

Unfavorable News from the Sandwich Islands.

HONOLULU, June 20, 1859.

To the Editors of the N. Y. Independent:

I have noticed that of late very little has been published in the Missionary Herald and Journal of Missions concerning the Hawaiian Islands. The reason, doubtless, is, that the missionaries have of late years written very little for publication, feeling, perhaps, that what they might communicate would not be deemed sufficiently interesting for the public eye. Could they have reported remarkable revivals of religion, or great advances in civilization, or wonderful triumphs of truth over error, they would have joyfully made known the glad tidings, that those who love the cause of Christ in the United States might rejoice with them. But if they cannot report what is encouraging and cheering, they do not seem to think that American Christians would be interested in knowing the true condition of religion and morals and civilization at these islands, and that they are as much disposed to sympathize with the missionaries here in their discouragements and trials, as in their joys in witnessing the triumphs of the grace of God.

The Hawaiian Evangelical Association closed their annual meeting a fortnight ago, and the most of them have returned to their respective fields of labor. About three-fourths of the members of the Association were present, and among them three of the pioneers of the mission, viz: Mr. and Mrs. Thurston and Mrs. Whitney. Mr. Thurston reports that his infirmities have much interfered with his labors the past year or two; but Mrs. T. and Mrs. W. seem as vigorous as they did ten or fifteen years ago.

In the reports of the different stations, there was little to encourage—much to try the faith and patience of the laborers in this part of the great harvest. The population is almost everywhere diminishing. The number of scholars in the schools decreases, and schools are given up. The preaching of the Gospel seems to have very little influence on the young, and very few of them give evidence of having been born again; while licentiousness is fearfully prevalent. Only the pastor of the church of Waimea, Hawaii, reports a revival. This work of grace has been remarkable, surpassing the expectations of one of the most devoted of missionaries. In this revival, the young, more than is usual at these islands, have been brought into the kingdom of God; and 176 in all have been received into the church. Cheering indications of increasing religious interest are apparent at Hana, on Maui, and at Lihue, on Kauai.

In addition to other discouragements, there has been manifested by many a disposition to return to their old heathenish practices; especially the Island of Oahu. One of these is the Hula, or dancers. The whole influence of Hula is most demoralizing and degrading. The dress of the performers, the dance, and the song are all alike debasing. The dress of the dancers is most shameful, their movements abominable, and their songs lascivious.

Jarves, in his history, says: "The dances, or Hula, were of various characters; sometimes interspersed with chants relating to the achievements of the past or present rulers, or in honor of the gods. The dances of the professional dancers consisted in a variety of uncouth motions and twistings of the body, of too lascivious a nature to bear description, and were generally preparatory to brutal revels. Their costumes were in conformity with their actions."

Such is the historical account of the Hula, and it agrees with what we see of them, as now revived. And it has been publicly asserted that they are more objectionable, as now practiced, than in the times of the deepest heathen darkness—idolatrous, tending to promote licentiousness, to foster idleness and ignorance, to cause poverty, famine, disease, and death; and now it is licensed at Honolulu, but it will not be confined to Honolulu.

The prevalence of the Hula has been quite general on Oahu, and everywhere with like results. To attend the Hula, the native has left his taro patch uncultivated, and his cattle uncared for, and his house, through which the rain found its way, unrepaired. Children have left their schools, and church-members the religious meeting, to be present at the Hula. The number of church-members found at the Hula has, however, been comparatively small. The price of poi, the staff of life among Hawaiians, has risen one hundred per cent.; but this has been one of the least of the evils resulting from the Hula.

This letter will, doubtless, surprise many who have been accustomed to regard the Hawaiians as a Christian people, far advanced in civilization; but the friends of these islands wish to know the truth, and they ought to know the truth, how much soever it may conflict with cherished ideas and hopes.

The Late Troubles in Southern Kansas.

[Correspondence of the Boston Traveller.]

LEAVENWORTH, August 23.

The telegraph has already borne you intelligence of renewed difficulties between Missouri and Southern Kansas. The news is to some extent true, but it will be well to wait for further particulars before giving full credence. From private letters I learn the following particulars:

About a week since a Free State man, by name Wright, generally known as Pickles, was decoyed to Fale's store, across the Missouri line, under pretext of trading horses. He was then seized by a band of armed men, and after various indignities, was carried into the interior to Fremont Jail, 50 miles from the border.

From the evidence it appears that when first seized it was illegally. No warrant or officer appeared, though it is undoubtedly true that indictments have been found by Missouri Grand Juries against Wright, with others of Montgomery's men. A number of armed men have been loitering on the border with the design of seizing any Kansas man careless enough to put themselves in their way. The prisoner is one of the most active of Montgomery's band. He came to Kansas in '56, was a member of the Chicago company who were robbed, and turned back at Lexington. He is said to be a relative of Thomas Barber, who was murdered by the ruffian Clark, (now a purser in the U. S. Navy) during the Wakarusa war. He is quite a young man, keen witted, reckless and daring, and has been an extremely active man since he came to Kansas.

The arrest caused a furore, and Montgomery sent to demand his release. A conference was had with Capt. Fale and a deputation of four other Missourians. It resulted fruitlessly. The Kansas captain demanded the release of his comrade, and gave the Missourians a week to consider. They sent in the next day or so, refusing to accede to the demands, and Montgomery, as a consequence, raised a force and invaded the State. On last Sunday, the 21st inst., he was on his way to Fremont, to release Wright. A public meeting of the citizens of Linn Co., was held at Mound City, which listened to Capt. Montgomery's statement of the difficulty, its causes, and the action proposed, all of which were endorsed.

This is about the extent of the troubles. They look and are serious, but it is hoped that by a sudden movement, such as he is capable of making, Montgomery may release Wright, and reach the Territory safely. There are a number of men in those border counties of Missouri, who are determined there shall be no peace, and they have been the instigators of this disturbance. One thing is certain, Montgomery will not desert his man, and if he has to fight his way to Jefferson City, he will release the prisoner. And he is sustained by the people generally.

The Use of Quails.

A correspondent of the Centralia Press says, that about the first of June last, Wm. Norton, an intelligent farmer boy, near Tamaroa, observed the quails (commonly called "partridges" in Egypt) very busy among his young corn. He observed a small flock commencing at one side of the field, taking about five rows, following them regularly through the field, scratching and picking about every hill till they came to the other side of the field; then taking another five rows on their return, and thus continuing until he thought they were certainly pulling up the corn. He shot one and then proceeded to examine the corn ground. On all the ground that they had been over, he found but one stalk of corn that had been disturbed; that was scratched nearly out of the ground, but the kernel was still attached to the stalk. In the crop of the quail he found one cut worm, twenty one striped vine bugs, over one hundred chinch bugs that still retained their individuality, a mass apparently consisting of hundreds of chinch bugs but not one kernel of corn. The quails have been decreasing in that vicinity for about five years past, and the chinch bugs increasing.

Valuable Olfactories.

An amusing story is told of the acute sense of smell of a tobacconist of our city. He, together with his clerk, was examining some tobacco submitted for his inspection. After carefully inhaling the flavor by three or four protracted sniffs, he exclaimed to his clerk:—"John, can't you smell old leather in that tobacco?" John presented it to his olfactories, and "thought he could." The "chief" again smelled, and declared that he could also detect a very slight flavor of maple sugar. This last aroma John pronounced beyond his powers. Samples of leaf tobacco, you know, are taken from each end of the hogshead, and also from the center. The samples examined were from the ends. On taking a sample from the middle there was found an old boot heel full of maple pegs! Judgment on "tobakker" from this quarter is now regarded as final.—Knickerbocker Magazine.

A Rat-Skin Suit.

An ingenious individual, of Liskeard, Cornwall, England, has for some time past been exhibiting himself in a dress composed from top to toe of rat-skins, which he has been collecting for three years and a half. The dress was made entirely by himself, and consists of hat, neckerchief, coat, waistcoat, trowsers, tippet, gaiters and shoes. The number of rats required to complete the suit was six hundred and seventy; and the individual when thus dressed, appears like the Esquimaux described in the travels of Parry and Ross. The tippet or boa is composed of the pieces of skin immediately round the tails of the rats, and is a very curious part of the dress, containing about six hundred tails—and those none of the shortest.

Verdancy in Pike County.

An insurance agent in this city, a gentleman well and favorably known as a man of truth and veracity, tells the following, in illustration of the verdancy of a gentleman in Pike County, with whom he had effected a policy of insurance.

In the list of printed questions, in the company's blanks, there is one like this—"Ashes—how kept?" The Pike County gentleman was burned out, and after the fire discovered this question in his policy, and, resolving to make a sure thing of his premium, wrote our informant something in this wise: "Dear Sir—I was burned out on the —— day of ——, and according to your laws, I have kept the ashes. They are in barrels, what shall I do with them?"—Peoria Union.

A NEW PHYSIOLOGY
—BY—
Edward Hitchcock, D. D.; L. L. D.,
President of Amherst College, Author of Geology, etc., etc.

Read the Following:

[From the Springfield Republican.]

"At length we have the prospect of a Class Book of Anatomy and Physiology, thoroughly adapted to the use of schools.

We have had numerous books on these comparatively new school studies, but they do not live. Their sufficient condemnation is, that they die out. President Hitchcock, of Amherst College, and his son, Dr. Hitchcock, of Williston Seminary, have prepared a book which Ivison & Phinney are to publish, and from what we know of the authors we cannot doubt that it will sweep the market. The work is to be handsomely illustrated, and special attention given to gymnastics and hygiene. The men not only understand their subject, but are teachers of eminence, and known how to adapt their instructions to the purposes of schools."

IT WILL CONTAIN 400 ILLUSTRATIONS.

WATER WHEELS.
Vandewater's Recently Improved
Jonval Turbine Water Wheel.
OFFICE 81 SOUTH CLARK STREET, CHICAGO.

I offer this Improved Turbine Water Wheel to the public with the fullest confidence and assurance of its

Superiority Over All Other Wheels,

Without any exception. They are well adapted to (and have been tested in) Mills of all descriptions. They give a very steady and uniform speed, and are well adapted to very high as well as very low heads and falls. They will work well in back water without any material loss of power, and are not troubled with ice, as they are set inside of the forebay and discharged underneath. It requires a small amount of gearing to get up a high speed; costs but little to set up, and runs upon a step that needs no oiling, and will last for years. This wheel is capable of yielding a power of from 70 to 85 per cent. of the whole power of the water (according to the degree of finish of wheel) under high heads and falls, and in all cases it is warranted to work up to the power laid down in the tables, and to give satisfaction when properly put up and geared.

SOMETHING NEW!!!
MITCHELL'S PATENT
Metallic-Tipped Boot and Shoe.

An improvement has been applied to Boots and Shoes, by which a Great Saving in Expense is made. Every Boot and Shoe Dealer knows that Children will wear out at the toe the best constructed shoe in four to six weeks, and that it has hitherto defied the skill of manufacturers to obviate this difficulty.

THE "METALLIC TIP"

meets and overcomes it. A small piece of copper is neatly fastened to the toe of the Boot or Shoe, affording a complete protection to it, and rendering the efforts of the most inveterate stamper ineffectual to kick or wear it out.

We present this invention with the fullest knowledge of and experience in its Practical Utility. Having now for nearly two years been subjected to the severest tests, it has by its own intrinsic merits, actually surmounted every objection that could possibly be brought against it, as the accompanying certificates, which are but a fair average of hundreds of others, will abundantly corroborate. We have no hesitation in saying that the Metallic-Tipped Shoe is destined to entirely supersede, for Children and Youth, the old style; and we consider it a moderate statement, that one pair of the Metallic Tips will outwear two to three pairs of the old style, making a saving of nearly two-thirds in the expense of shoes.

MESSRS. WADSWORTH & WELLS, OF CHICAGO,
Have been appointed Agents for the sale of the Boots and Shoes, and are authorized to dispose of Town and County Rights.
Communications addressed to them or the undersigned will receive proper attention.
CHAS. F. McKINNEY & CO.,

N. B.—This invention is a complete protection from the cutting of the Prairie Grasses, and is especially adapted to Miners' use, and all occupations which particularly expose the toe of the boot or shoe to being cut or worn. [illegible]

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Steamship Africa.

New York, Sept. 1.—The steamship Africa from Liverpool on the 22d ult., arrived here at 11 o'clock this A. M. Her commercial advices have been anticipated by the arrival of the Jason at St. Johns.

The papers received furnish the following additional advices to those contained in the St. John's dispatch.

It was rumored at Paris that Marshals Canrobert, and Neil had fought a duel, in which the latter was killed.

The long pending trial of Doctor Smethurst, for the murder of Miss Banks, at Richmond, had terminated. A verdict of guilty was rendered, and Dr. Smethurst, was sentenced to be hanged. The testimony elicited at the trial showed that Dr. Smethurst had got up a fictitious marriage with Miss Banks, having at the time, a wife living, and slowly poisoned her for the sake of her money.

The builders' strike was continued at London.

John Edward Buller, of the firm of Buller & Smart, solicitors, London, has absconded. He is a defaulter to the amount of £100,000.

France.—The Emperor Napoleon has ordered two government steamers to proceed to Algeria and Guiana to bring back the political exiles.

The Paris correspondent of the London News intimates that the news from Italy had much to do with the Emperor's amnesty, and that the impossibility of carrying out the peace of Villa Franca in accordance with the views of Austria had made Napoleon reflect seriously on the necessity of rallying the men of all parties about his standard.

The projected fortifications at Antwerp were exciting increased attention and uneasiness at Paris.

Italy.—The Chevalier Farina had quitted Modena for Parma, to assume the Dictatorship offered him. The municipality had issued a proclamation, expressing a unanimous desire for this, and the population evinced great enthusiasm. The government had purchased four thousand rifles, and invited the disbanded corps of the riflemen of the Alps to take service under Parma.

Austria.—It was reported from Vienna that the Emperor was getting impatient at the delay in the restoration of the Grand Dukes, and also that the Austrian corps d'armie was to be concentrated near Rovigo, on the road to the Legations and the city of Modena.

A decree had been issued at Bologna, declaring all the citizens of Romanga, without distinction of religion, equal in law and in the exercise of their political rights.

Father Gavazzi had been preaching at Bologna.

John Moody, second mate of the ship Mary, of Bath, had been committed in England on the charge of wilful murder in killing on board of that ship, while it was lying in the Tyne, a seaman named Daniel Witham.

Zurich, Aug. 19.—Yesterday a conference took place between the Plenipotentiaries of France and Austria.

A messenger of the French Cabinet has arrived here, and has departed again for Paris at the banquet given by Count Collerdo. M. Doubs proposed the health of the Emperor of Austria, and Count Collerdo proposed as a toast, "The permanence of the friendship between Austria and Switzerland and the Government of Zurich." In the next sittings of the Conference it is supposed that the question of the boundary of Lombardy and her participation in the Austrian debt will be settled. To-day there was a conference between M. DeBourgenney and M. DeSambrois, the French and Sardinian Plenipotentiaries.

Paris, Friday, Aug. 19.—The Moniteur this morning contains a decree to the effect that foreign shares and securities may be negotiated at the Bourse aftea two-fifths of their value have been paid up. Previously it was necessary that seven tenths should be paid up.

The Moniteur further announces that their Imperial Majesties arrived yesterday at Tarbes and proceeded to the villa of M. Fauld. They were received with great enthusiasm by the populace.

Their Majesties leave to-day for St. Sauveur.

The Pays of this morning says Marshal Canrobert has left for Vichy, where he will remain for some days before resuming his duties as commander of the corps d'arme, the head-quarters of which are at Naucy.

The Patrie announces the departure of Marshal Niel for Toulouse, where he vill preside at the sitting of the Conseil-General of the Department.

The Bourse closed with firmness, Rentes being 69f 15c.

Central Italy—Marseilles, Thursday, June 18.—General Garibaldi arrived on the 16th inst. at Modena. It is confirmed that he is charged with the command of the Tuscany.

The fete of Napoleon was celebrated at Florence by a solemn mass at the cathedral, at which the Ministers, the Members of the National Assembly and the Officers of the Staff were present.

Signor Ratazzi has suspended the publication of the Catholica at Genoa.

Modena, Aug. 18th.—Yesterday the Chevalier Farina quitted Modena for Parma and Piacenza to accept the Dictatorship offered to him. The municipality issued a public proclamation expressing their unanimous desire for this. The enthusiasm of the populace was very great and Parma and Piacenza were illuminated.

Vienna, Aug. 19.—Since the return of the Emperor to Vienna no council of Ministers still in power has been held.

The official Wiemer Zietung contains a list of numerous military promotions and distinctions made on account of the battle of Solferino.

It is stated that the minister of the Interior, Baron Bach, will be appointed ambassador at Rome. Other changes in the Cabinet are expected to take place.

A letter from Vienna says: Some of the regiments of the army of Italy, which were to have returned, have received counter orders and will remain in Venetia. This has been construed by some as an intention on the part of Austria to make an armed intervention shortly in the Duchies, but information derived from a good source refutes any such intention on the part of the Imperial government. The Imperial family of Austria shows the greatest sympathy for the deposed sovereigns; and is making every diplomatic exertion to procure their restoration.

A second councillor attached to the Foreign Office has left for Zurich, to stimulate the zeal of the Austrian Plenipotentiaries, and new dispatches have been forwarded to Count Collerdo on the subject of the measures to be adopted for effecting, as soon as possible, the much dreaded restoration of the Archdukes.

A New Phase of Rascality.

New York, Sept. 1.—One of the most successful efforts at rascality ever heard of was brought to light yesterday in this city. It appears that a sharper in Philadelphia advertised for a number of young ladies to go south to fill situations as teachers of music. Fifteen young women were accepted by the advertiser. They were to have remunerative employment in the families of wealthy gentlemen and planters, and in every respect their future prospects were of the most flattering description.

It was simply stipulated by the advertiser that the ladies would defray in part their expenses to the respective destinations. On arriving in this city en route for the South, the sharper took charge of the baggage of the ladies, collected from them about one hundred and fifty dollars for their fair in the steamship, and while they were waiting patiently at the hotel for him to conduct them on board, he decamped with his plunder.

Washington Intelligence.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Gen. Lane in a private letter says, in relation to the Presidency, that he is content to place himself in the hands of his friends, and will take no step to bring himself before the people as a candidate.

Judge Douglas intends leaving Washington on Monday next, and proceeding via Pittsburg to attend the United States Agricultural Fair at Chicago on the 12th inst. It is now probable that he will be able while on his way, to comply with the request of the Democratic State Central Committee of Ohio, to canvass that State as far as to deliver several speeches.

Gov. Willard of Indiana, and Gov. Sibley of Minnesota, are at the National Hotel. Ex-Senator Soule of Louisiana is also in the city.

Cotton Intelligence.

Mobile, Sept. 1.—The total receipts at this port of cotton for the year ending this day is 704,400 bales against 522,845 bales last year.

The receipts of new cotton to this date have been 1,006 bales against 1,088 bales at same time last year. The stock in port is 18,875 bales against 10,000 bales at this time last year. The average price current during the year has been 11¼c.

Norfolk, Sept. 1.—The advices from the cotton crops of North Carolina received to-day are unfavorable. Large fields have been damaged and others will not mature.

Augusta, Sept. 1.—Stock of cotton in port 9,063 bales.

The rainy weather still continues.

Steamer Sunk—Destructive Fire.

New Orleans, September 1.—The steamboat Messenger, from Memphis for this place, took fire, was run ashore, scuttled and sunk near Bayou Sara to-day. The passengers and cargo, consisting of cotton, was saved.

Five stores on Tchopitoulas-st. were burned this P. M. They were filled with whisky and produce. Loss $100,000.

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—The steamer York State, belonging to the Alton Packet Co., sunk at Madison, 14 miles above here, this morning. The boat is a total loss.

Two Young Ladies Drowned.

New York, Sept 1st.—During a squall last night, the yacht Edda, owned by Mr. Roosevelt, was capsized in the Sound. Two young ladies were drowned, one of whom was Miss Julia Waterbury, daughter of Lawrence Waterbury, Esq, of this city; the other was a Miss Craven.

Crew Rescued.

Norfolk, Sept. 1st.—The ship Henry Clark, Brown, from Liverpool, passed here on her way up James River to-day, having on board Capt. Geadie and crew of the British ship Black Douglass, from Arabia, bound to Cork, which was abandoned on the 11th ult., in a sinking condition.

A Shooting Affair.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 1.—Louis Leonard shot Mr. Elam, a wealthy farmer of this vicinity through the breast last evening. His situation is critical. Leonard has been arrested. Mr. Elam was the Democratic candidate at the late election for the Legislature.

Louisville, Sept. 1st.—Hogs assessed last year, 1,310,000. Tobacco inspected, 17,500 hhds.

Financial and Commercial.

MONETARY.

Thursday Evening, Sept 1.

Eastern Exchange still tends downward. To-day the Banks were charging 1¼@1½ per cent. prem.; but on the street it was difficult to sell at 1 per cent. Exchange on Buffalo was sold at ½ per cent.—which is equal to about ¾ for New York. Before the close of the week the banks will probably reduce their rates to 1 per cent. Currency continues in good supply. Gold in limited demand. Discounts, 10 per cent.

St. Louis.—The St. Louis Democrat of yesterday says:

From Chicago, dispatches were received this morning, that Exchange there on the East had declined to 1¼ prem. for Illinois and Wisconsin, the same that it has here. Not only so, but Chicago bankers proffered to swap Exchange with us here at 1¼ for currency. Last week considerable amounts of Exchange sold here for Chicago at about double the present rate.

Money is tight, and the demands for bankable funds with which to pay up notes, &c., exceed the present supply at nearly all the moneyed houses.

Pike's Peak Gold.—The Mo. Democrat says: "Pike's Peak gold was again bought to-day by Clark Bros. & Co., several small quantities from country merchants having been remitted to our city merchants to sell. Rates paid range from $15 to $17.50 per ounce, for amalgam or quicksilvered to best panned gold dust."

Cincinnati, August 31.—The Gazette of this morning says:

The demand for Exchange was hardly up to the average, but it was fully equal to the supply, and some of the houses refused to draw, except for depositors, at ¼ prem., while others made two rates, viz: ¼ for customers, and ½ for outsiders.

Eastern Exchange declined in Chicago, to-day, to ½ premium, being a reduction of one per cent., within the last fortnight. A corresponding decline was established here in the discount on Ilinois, Wisconsin and Iowa paper, which we now quote at 1¼. At this rate there is a very good demand, and the bulk of the currency bought by dealers is held in anticipation of a further improvement. The rapid progress that Chicago has made lately tawards getting out of the woods, encourages the belief that Exchange will go down there to 1c prem. The quotations for Missouri currency is still 1 discount, but there are more buyers than sellers at this rate, and some lots were placed to-day at ¾ and ⅞ discount. The notes of the bank of Western Virginia are at a discount of 10 per cent. The bank is in bad credit at home.

The increased receipts caused a heaviness in the Wheat market to-day, and Spring grades declined 1½@2c, with less activity. Winter grades were firm, owing to a good demand for milling purposes. About 40,000 bushels of all grades changed hands at 91@93c for No. 1 Red on track; 75c for No. 2 Red in store; 73c for No. 1 Spring in store; and 69½@71c in store—closing quiet at the inside figures. Flour was firm, under a good demand for Spring Extras, about 500 brls of which were sold at $4.00. Winterwheat flour dull. Corn opened dull at a decline of 1c, stiffening however towards the close. About 35000 bushels were sold at 62c for Canal afloat; 60@60½c for No. 1 in store; and 57½@58c for No. 2. Oats were quiet and a shade lower, with sales of about 6,000 bushels at 25@25½c for No. 1 in store. Rye 55c. Highwines quiet at 24c. Mess Pork sold to-day at $15.00, and Bulk Shoulders at 7c. Timothy Seed more active and firmer with sales at $1.95@2.00 for fair to prime. Hides unchanged. Freights unchanged. Vessels were taken to-day at 3c for Corn to Buffalo, and 6c for Wheat to Oswego.

Minnesota Wheat.—This morning we saw a sample of Club Wheat from Minnesota. It was very fine, and was bought for milling purposes at 78c. This is the first Minnesota wheat ever received in this market.

The Grain Trade of Chicago for 1858-9.—On the first page will be found an article on the Grain Trade of Chicago for the year ending yesterday.

The Winter Wheat Crop of Illinois for 1859.—The Prairie Farmer of this week says: The editor of this paper has traveled somewhat extensively through the wheat growing sections of this State, and from the information gained by observation and inquiry among farmers, he is satisfied that the average yield per acre of this crop is not more than five to six bushels.

Milwaukee—Aug. 31.—Receipts, 770 bbls flour; 26,438 bu wheat; 308 bu oats; 351 bush barley; 140 bu rye. Shipments, 12,370 bush wheat to Buffalo. The Sentinel of this morning says:—

The wheat market was tolerably active and steady to-day, at yesterday's closing figures, sales amounting to about 12,000 bus at 71@72c for No. 1 spring, 68@69c for No. 3, and 76c for extra club. The principal transactions were in No. 1 at 71c in store, comparatively little going beyond that figure. Sellers were very reluctant to come down to the views of buyers on extra, and we heard of but one sale at the price millers were disposed to pay for ordinary qualities. The market closed weak, and less active than in the morning. A few lots of country extra flour changed hands at $3.75@4.00, and a favorite brand of city extra at 4.50 free on board. Oats were very scarce, 26c being freely offered without bringing any upon the market. Corn firm. We note an increased inquiry for barley, but it continues to come in very sparingly.

Cincinnati—Aug. 31.—Receipts, 2,261 bush wheat; 2,629 brls flour; 2,497 bush oats; 500 bush barley. The Gazette of this morning says:

Flour continues dull at $4.50 to 4.55 for superfine. There is no disposition on the part of buyers to operate, owing to the continued unfavorable advices from New York, where prices are declining quite as rapidly as they advanced, lately. The quotations to-day, for fresh ground Ohio, were $5.20 to 5.40, being 30 to 35c below the highest point of last week. In our market wheat has declined 2 to 3c, notwithstanding very small receipts to-day. Corn dull and drooping. Oats declined with sales as low as 40c. Whisky declined 1c, closing at 23½c. No change in groceries.

St. Louis, Aug. 31.—There is a continued good demand for Flour, and prices are tending upward, with sales of superfine at $4.15@4.20. Wheat is in good demand, and prices have farther advanced 1@2c per bushel, closing at 76c@$1.10. Receipts to-day 10,000 bushels. Corn is in better demand, and prices are firmer. Receipts 1,100 bushels. Oats are one cent higher. Provisions inactive and unchanged.

Money contines scarce, and the demands for discounts are pressing. Exchange is easier, but quotations remain at ½c prem.

Detroit—Aug. 31—Receipts, 1,284 bbls flour; 9,251 bu wheat; 700 bu corn; 17 bu rye. The Tribune of yesterday sas:—There was still further increase in the amount of wheat offering on 'Change this morning, and a trifle better demand, but at reduced rates, three or four lots prime white changing hands at $1.05 f. o. b., being 1@3c lower than yesterday's rates. For large lots for shipment buyers would not go beyond $1.00 for prime white f. o. b., and 85@90c for red of similar quality. Flour is steady at $4.62½@4.75 for red and white single extras, figures which are above the views of buyers, and there is no inquiry except for light parcels. Corn is steady at 72c for No. 1. Oats are going off at 26@28c. Barley is lower, good bringing $1.00 ⅌ 100 lbs.

Toronto—Aug. 31.—The Globe says:—The deliveries of wheat yesterday were larger amounting to about 3,000 bushels. The demand was active, the rate of competition somewhat keen, varying from 5s to 5s 8d for good to prime. The average price was about 5s 5d per bushel. The market closed dull, with drooping prices. Spring Wheat—A very fine car load of spring wheat from St. Mary's was in the market last night for which 4s 6d was offered without leading to a sale. There was one or two loads bought from farmers to-night at this rate. Oats are lower, some sales were reported at 1s 10d per bu. Old oats were bought at 2s 9d.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—Flour firm but quiet; superfine in moderate demand and scarce at $4.60 to $4.80; sales of fancy at $5; and extra from new wheat $5.50; No. 2 neglected at $4; unbrandable heavy of sale at $3.30 to $3.80. Wheat—None offering.

New York, Aug. 30.—Receipts, 17,959 bbls flour; 22,922 bu wheat; 46,161 bu corn; 37,904 bu oats; 966 bu rye.

Toledo—Aug. 31.—Receipts for the past 24 hours per Canal and Michigan Southern and Wabash Railroads are:—Flour 4,125 bbls; wheat 21,249 bu; corn 1,400 bu; oats 750 bu. Wheat—sales 700 bu Michigan red at 97c; 700 bu do 97c; 700 bu do at 97c; 700 bu Wabash white at $1.07; 700 bu do $1.07; 700 bu do $1.07; 1,320 bu do $1.07; 1,000 bu do $1.07; also, 3,000 bu red Michigan at 96c; 300 bu do on car, at 98c; 2,000 bu red p. n. t. Corn—nominal, 68c. Barley—spring 45c, winter 50c. Rye—56c. Oats—last sales 30@32c.

NEW YORK CATTLE MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING AUG. 31.

[Abridged from the New York Tribune of this (Thursday) morning, and telegraphed to Cincinnati.]

RECEIPTS.

The receipts of Cattle of all kinds are as follows: Beeves 4,133; Cows, 134; Veals, 567; Sheep and Lambs, 12,421; Swine, 2,315. Of these, Ohio supplied 657, Indiana 130, Illinois 1,156, Kentucky 424, Kansas 30.

BEEF CATTLE.

The market continued through the second day like the first, and all the stock was sold before night, notwithstanding receipts of the week were over 700 head larger than the week before. Prices yesterday were on an average half a cent higher than a week ago, which was partly owing to the average quality of the stock being better, and partly owing to an insufficiency of the supply of such cattle as are wanted by first class butchers, which enabled the cattle brokers to demand and get, all through the market 10c a pound and upward for all cattle suited to their purpose, and 10@11c a pound for such as were a little more fine or compare with others extra, but it must be understood that bullocks to bring these prices must be really superior corn fed animals, not only fat, but of fine quality, such as our country fed cattle or the choicest of the western Durhams and their grades. Such cattle as the owners often call first-rate beeves at home and really pretty fair quality for retailers, sold yesterday at 8@8½c and 9@9½c net a pound, according to quality, the lower grades, some of them, even below 6c every week, though the extra mean ones were not as abundant as common this week.

The prices of Beef Cattle we quote as follows: First quality, 10@11c; medium, 8½@9½c; ordinary, 5½@6c. Some extra Beeves may be quoted at 11c—the general average 9c. Most sales ranged from 8@10½c.

It is reported that the cattle are carried on the Erie for $4 a car less than heretofore, and that the Central will reduce rates $7 a car, to make the transportation to Buffalo as low as to Dunkirk.

THE HOG MARKET.

The Hog market is good, and numbers small—3,300 less than last week. That stock has sold as it came in day by day, and the pens were almost empty last night—1,000 came in this morning. Few hogs are coming in, and those sell as rapidly as they come in small lots, to city butchers, who want heavy hogs for lard and hams, for which the demand is good, if they are fresh city cured.

There is also a moderate inquiry from Eastern buyers; best corn-fed hogs are worth 6⅛c per pound gross and down to 5½c; distillery hogs 6c. There is a slight tendency upward for heavy hogs.

No Light.—Capt. Chamberlain, of the propeller Evergreen City, which arrived in port on Tuesday night, states that the light at the new light house was out on that night some three or four hours, or from twelve to three o'clock and that, on being relit, it would not give more light than one of the gas lamps in the street. We have a fine light house, one of which we are proud but many of the captains complain of the light, that it is not powerful enough and this is the second time that the harbor has been left in utter darkness. Will the keeper see to it?
